AWARD (PART I)

4-5-1974

This is a reference under Section 10(1)(d) read with Section 12(5) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, relating to the dispute between M/s. Shantilal Khushaldas & Bros. Pvt. Ltd., Margao (hereinafter referred to as the employers) and the workmen employed by that company. The question referred to this Tribunal reads thus:

«Whether the management of M/s. Shantilal Khushaldas & Bros. Pvt. Ltd., Margao, was justified in terminating the services of Shri R. V. Bhide, with effect from 20-7-1972; if not, to what relief the concerned workman is entitled?»?

2. In the statement of claim the employee concerned—R. V. Bhide alleges that although he was first engaged on the mine, about four years back he was given appointment at Sircaim river side plot which is a loading point. He was appointed there by order dated 13-3-1969. Since he has been working as Supervisor at the same loading point, it cannot be said that he is a Mining Supervisor, and it is unnecessary for him to obtain a certificate, as directed by the employers on these grounds the order dated 20-7-1972 terminating his services is challenged as unjustified.

3. In the written statement, it is alleged by the employers that the Directorate of Mines Safety, Government of India, and the Mining Inspectorate insisted that supervisors should possess certificate of competency, and as such the employers' organisation as a whole had to adopt coordinated policy to implement the said instructions. Supervisors like R. V. Bhide are necessarily deputed to work at different establishments of their organisation—whether mine or plot, hence it would be necessary for R. V. Bhide to obtain the necessary certificate. According to the employers, Bhide was asked to obtain the necessary certificate, he was given reasonable opportunity to obtain the same but he failed to obtain it, hence the employers are justified in terminating his services.

4. The question for consideration is whether under the Mines Act, 1952 (hereinafter referred to as the Act) and/or the regulations framed thereunder, it is obligatory for R. V. Bhide—the employee concerned to obtain a certificate, as directed by the employers. The parties have led evidence to disclose the nature of the work done by R. V. Bhide. It is unnecessary to discuss in detail the whole evidence. The union has produced the employers order dated 13-3-1969—Ex. U-3. That order reads thus:

«You are hereby informed that your services have been transferred to Sircaim Plot as a Plot Supervisor. You are also appointed as a Plot Incharge.

You are therefore requested to report at Sircaim Plot with immediate effect from the date of receipt of this letter.

It is not disputed by the employers that such an order was served on R. V. Bhide. This order which is dated 13-3-1969 makes it abundantly clear that Bhide was transferred to Sircaim Plot, and his designation was changed, and from 13-3-1969 he started working as a Plot Supervisor. The employers have examined Iyengar—Mines Manager. In his evidence he has stated that in June/July 1972 Bhide was asked to work on Sircaim Plot. This, however, is not a correct statement in view of the order dated 13-3-1969—Ex. U-3 referred to above. There is nothing in Iyengar's evidence to show that since March 1969 Bhide worked anywhere else except on Sircaim Plot. It is not disputed that Sircaim Plot is a loading point, i.e. a plot where iron ore is stored for the purpose of loading the same on ships. There is no evidence to show that any mining operation as such goes on at that plot. The evidence shows that all that is done is that iron ore which is to be exported is stored on that plot i.e. Sircaim plot for loading the same on ships. George Vaz, the Secretary of the Union has given evidence. In his evidence he has stated that he himself has visited the plot on which R. V. Bhide has been working. That plot is at least three miles away from the nearest mine of the employer. There is nothing in his cross-examination to show that this statement is incorrect. The Union has produced letter dated 2-9-1968, along with its annexure received from the Ministry of Labour, Government of India. That letter shows that the opinion of the Labour Ministry is that a loading point cannot be said to be a part of mine, unless it is in or adjacent to and belonging to the mine. It is true that this is merely an opinion. All the same this opinion is based on the decision of the Supreme Court in Sirajuddin & Company V. Their Workmen (3) Supreme Court Labour Judgements, page 1800. In this case, the question before the Supreme Court was whether office of the mine constitutes a part of the mine.

The Supreme Court held that it does not. The relevant observations (at page 1802-3) are:

«In the absence of any definition of the word 'Mine' in the Act, we may take into account the dictionary meaning as excavation in earth for metal, coal, salt, etc. The Mines Act, 35 of 1952, also contains a definition of 'mine' in Section 2(j). The said definition shows, inter alia, that a 'mine' means any excavation where any operation for the purpose of searching for or obtaining minerals has been or is being carried on. It is significant that the definition of mine under Section 2(j) excludes an office of a mine which is separately defined by Section 2(k) as meaning an office at the surface of the mine concerned so that there is no doubt that the office of the mine, though it may be situated at the surface of the mine itself, is not within the definition of mine. This position is further clarified when we consider the definition of the person employed in a mine which is prescribed by Section 2(h). A person is said to be employed in a mine who works under appointment by or with the knowledge of the manager, whether for wages or not, in any mining operations, or in clearing or oiling any part of any machinery used in or about the mine, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to, or connected with mining operations. It is obvious that the persons employed in the head office wherever it may be situated cannot be said to do the mining operation within the first part of the definition. In our opinion, they cannot be said to be ordinarily engaged in any other kind of work which is incidental to or connected with mining operations either. The work which is incidental to or connected with mining operations must have some connection with or in relation to the mining operations themselves. The work that is carried on in the head office which consists principally of the sale operations really begins after the minerals are ready and all operations incidental to or connected with them are over».

5. In my view, the principle indicated by the abovequoted observations applies to the facts of the present case. When iron ore is stored on the loading point, mining operations are already over even before iron ore is brought to and stored on the plot. In view of this, it is difficult to hold that a person working at such a loading point is a person working in a mine. I, therefore, hold that R. V. Bhide was not working as a Mining Supervisor, he was working as a Plot Supervisor since 13-3-1969. No provision of the Mines Act, nor any regulation framed under that Act is pointed out to me, which makes it obligatory on an employee working on a loading plot like the one mentioned above to obtain Mining Mate's Certificate; It is urged that although for the time being R. V. Bhide is working on Sircain Plot—a loading point, he may be asked to work at the mine, hence certificate is necessary. This contention would have some force if the order dated 13-3-1969 contained any indication that Bhide's appointment at the plot was only temporary. There is no such indication in that order. On the other hand the order shows that Bhide's designation was changed. This indicates that the transfer was not temporary—not one made to meet some exigency lasting for a short time. Moreover what is material for consideration is whether at the time Bhide's services were terminated it was obligatory on him to obtain certificate as per provisions of law or mandatory instructions of the Mining Department. Employers have in my opinion failed to prove the same.

6. In support of the contention that it was obligatory on R. V. Bhide to obtain certificate of competency for the post of Mining Mate/Supervisor, reliance is placed on Section 57(c)(e) of the Act. Section 57 enables the Central Government to frame regulations consistent with the provisions of the Act. Clause (c) reads thus:

«For prescribing the duties of owners, agents, and managers of mines and of persons acting under them, and for prescribing the (qualifications including age of agents and managers) of mines and of persons acting under them;»

Clause (c) no doubt provides that Government may frame regulation prescribing the qualifications of agents and managers of mines and persons acting under them. Clause (e) reads:

«For regulating the manner of ascertaining, by examination or otherwise, the qualifications of managers of mines and persons acting under them, and the granting and renewal of certificates of competency;»

Clause (e) provides that Government may frame regulation prescribing the manner of ascertaining the qualifications of managers of mines and persons acting under them and providing for issue, as well as renewal of certificates of competency. The question for consideration is whether it is obligatory on an employee working on a loading plot to obtain certificate of competency necessary for the post of Mining Mate/Supervisor. Reference is made to the definition of 'mine' under 2(j), particularly to clause (ix) of Section 2(j). It is urged that refuse from the mine is deposited at Sircain Plot where R. V. Bhide was working, and operations in connection with such refuse are being carried on there, the plot being exclusively occupied by the owner of the mine. On behalf of the employers, Iyengar-Mines Manager is examined. He has not stated anything in his evidence which will show that refuse from the mine is stored on Sircain Plot on which R. V. Bhide was working, nor is there anything to show that any operations in connection with such refuse is being carried out on that plot. It was suggested to R. V. Bhide in the cross-examination that refuse is stored on the Sircain Plot. He has denied this suggestion. Thus there is no evidence to show that Sircain Plot on which R. V. Bhide was working is covered by section 2(j)(ix).

7. Reference was made to regulation 2(9) which defines 'competent' person. R. V. Bhide satisfies that requirement of this definition. He was duly appointed in writing by the Manager as 'a person competent' to supervise or perform the work assigned to him. In fact, this is not disputed by the employers.

8. Reference was also made to regulation 2(23) which defines 'official'. The expression 'official' includes a Mining Mate. R. V. Bhide satisfied the requirements of this definition also, when he was appointed. It is not disputed that R. V. Bhide was duly appointed initially. All that is alleged by the employers is that under the instructions of the Mining Department, R. V. Bhide was required to obtain competency certificate of a Mining Mate/Supervisor, which he failed to obtain. Thus the validity of his initial appointment is not disputed by the employers. The only question for consideration is whether it was obligatory on him i.e. R. V. Bhide to obtain the said certificate after 13-3-1969. It is obvious that unless there is some requirement of Law which makes it obligatory on R. V. Bhide to obtain such a certificate, his services cannot be terminated on the ground of failure to obtain such a certificate.

9. Reference was made to regulation 12(2)(e). This regulation provides that certificate mentioned in this regulation shall be granted by the Board, and one of such certificates is Mining Mate's certificate of competency. It is important to note that the certificate is necessary for a Mining Mate, i.e. a person working on mine.

10. Reference was also made to regulation 23, which empowers the Board to grant a certificate to a Manager, Foreman, Mate and Blaster. This is merely an enabling regulation which provides that the Board may grant Mate's certificate to any person who has attained the age of 30 years and who satisfies the Board that he has worked in the capacity of a mining mate, in a metalliferous mine for a period of not less than seven years. Regulation 27 provides that when a person holding a mate's certificate is an employee in a mine, the certificate shall be delivered to the Manager. Regulation 30 provides that a certificate issued shall not be valid for a period of more than five years. Regulation 39(2) provides that it shall be the responsibility of the Manager to see that the persons appointed are competent to perform the duties assigned to them. Regulation 39 enables the owner, agent or manager of a mine to appoint such number of competent persons, including officials and technicians, as is sufficient for the working of the mine.

11. Reference was also made to regulations 41 and 42, but in my view they have no bearing on the question that arises before me.

12. Lastly, reference was made to regulation 47. This regulation refers regulation 116. Regulation 47(d) which is relied upon requires that a Mining Mate shall ensure that no inexperienced person is employed on any work except under the supervision of an experienced person. Regulation 47 defines the duties of a Mining Mate. This regulation does not provide that it is obligatory to obtain the above-mentioned certificate. In fact, regulation 47 merely deals with the duties of a Mining Mate or other competent person appointed under regulation 116. Regulation 116 also does not deal with the question of obtaining the above-mentioned certificate.

13. These are the only regulations to which my attention is invited. None of these regulations requires R. V. Bhide to obtain a certificate of the type mentioned in the order terminating his services.

14. The termination order refers to clause 19(1) of the certified standing orders. That clause deals with termination simpliciter. In the present case, it cannot be said that this is a case of termination simpliciter. The termination order itself mentions the ground for termination, viz., failure to obtain a certificate of competency for the post of Mining Mate/Supervisor. The validity of that ground is not established by the employers. Considering the nature of the place of work and duties performed by R. V. Bhide, it is obvious that the services of R. V. Bhide were wrongly terminated. I, therefore, hold that termination of R. V. Bhide was wrongful, hence ineffective. Accordingly I direct the employers to reinstate R. V. Bhide immediately.

15. With regard to back wages I shall pass orders after hearing the employers. Award accordingly.

AWARD PART-II

(24-7-1974)

Part-I Award granting reinstatement was passed by order dated 5-5-1974. After passing that award, since the employers were not present, further proceedings were adjourned to this date in order to determine the question of back wages.

2. Mr. Bharne for the employers submits that the question involved in this case was one of interpretation of regulations. The legal position was doubtful, hence back wages should not be allowed. I am unable to accept this contention. For reasons mentioned in award Part-I it appears that the employers were wrong in insisting upon certificates even though Bhide, the employee concerned, was working at a loading point and not at a mine, for more than 3 years. In any case, there is no evidence to indicate that the employers had obtained legal advice and acted bonafide in insisting upon the certificate. In absence of such evidence the above plea cannot be accepted.

3. The employers have not raised the contention that Bhide had any employment after his services were terminated. In view of this the normal rule reinstatement with full back wages must be followed. Accordingly I direct the employers to pay Bhide full wages from the date of termination till the date of reinstatement at the rate he was drawing on the date of termination. If the amount already paid to Bhide includes any amount by way of retirement benefits and/or retrenchment compensation, that shall be adjusted against the back wages awarded by this order.

4. Award accordingly. No order as to costs.
